Dear Parents and Carers

Happy New Year - it was lovely to welcome all the children and staff back to school after the Christmas break. I hope that you all had a well deserved break and got to spend lots of time with loved ones.

Our learning behaviour for this half term is co-operation. Co-operation is essential in school; adults need to co-operate together to make the school run well, children and adults need to co-operate for lessons to be as good as they can be and children need to co-operate with one another in so many aspects of school life. Co-operation involves sharing ideas, taking turns, and supporting each other to accomplish something everyone can be proud of. In simpler terms, co-operation is like a team sport where each player contributes their unique skills to win the game. By understanding and experiencing the importance of working together, children develop the skill of co-operation, which is crucial for both academic and social success.

Please remember that, whilst we do not set discrete homework (unless your child is in Year 6), we do expect ALL children to read every night, practice their spellings & handwriting and use TT Rockstars to practice their timestables or numberbonds. Please do encourage the children to do this each night as we can really see the impact on learning of the children who do this regularly at home.

Have a great weekend.

Yours sincerely

Mr Brewis
